

THE DEAN'S
AESCULAPIAN SOCIETY

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE
UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

Join the Society AND Become AN Aesculapian OR Dean's Circle Aesculapian.

The Dean's Aesculapian Society is a special group of people who demonstrate strong dedication to and support of the College of Medicine through their personal involvement and annual contributions to the Dean's Fund for Medical Excellence. Aesculapians participate in the life of the college as true insiders, receiving invitations to distinguished lectures and private tours, as well as Aesculapian-only events.

The Rod of Aesculapius

[as-kah-LAY-pee-uhs] is an ancient Greek symbol associated with healing the sick. It consists of the familiar serpent entwined around a staff. Aesculapius, the son of Apollo, was a practitioner of medicine in ancient Greek mythology. He was instructed in medicine by the centaur Chiron. Today, the serpent-and-rod motif is commonly used to symbolize the practice and profession of medicine.

Become AN Aesculapian Today

If you are interested in joining this society, please contact:

Lorraine Scholler
Assistant Director for Development
UCF College of Medicine
P.O. Box 160116
Orlando, Florida 32816-0116
P 407-266-1044
lorraine@mail.ucf.edu
www.med.ucf.edu

Become AN Aesculapian Today.

THE DEAN'S
AESCULAPIAN
SOCIETY

UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA
College of Medicine

UCF
Stands For Opportunity

UCF 0911COM120-04/10

www.med.ucf.edu

Letter FROM THE Dean

Dear Friend,

Allow me to personally invite you to join a select group of supporters, including scientists, physicians and community leaders, known as the Dean's Aesculapian Society.

This signature society will provide you with a rare insider's view into the education of a physician. You will be among the first to tour and experience our new facilities and programs. As my guest, you will have the opportunity to interact with other Aesculapians who share your passion for excellence in medical education, research and patient care.

Please consider joining the Dean's Aesculapian Society today. I am sure you will find the society to be both stimulating and rewarding.

See you at the next Aesculapian event.

Deborah C. German, M.D.
Dean, UCF College of Medicine

THE DEAN'S AESCULAPIAN SOCIETY

BENEFITS

| $1,000 AESCULAPIAN | $2,500 GOLD AESCULAPIAN | $10,000+ DEAN'S CIRCLE |
|--|--|---|
| Listing in College of Medicine Annual Report | Listing in College of Medicine Annual Report | Listing in College of Medicine Annual Report |
| Dean's Aesculapian Society Pin | Dean's Aesculapian Society Pin | Dean's Circle Pin |
| Dean's Aesculapian Newsletter | Dean's Aesculapian Newsletter | Dean's Aesculapian Newsletter |
| Invitations to College of Medicine Events | Invitations to College of Medicine Events | Invitations to College of Medicine Events |
| State of the College Luncheon | State of the College Luncheon | State of the College Luncheon |
| | Preferred Seating at Special Events* | Preferred Seating at Special Events* |
| | Organ Recital | Organ Recital |
| | | Invitation-only Tour of Clinical Skills & Simulation Center |
| | | Invitation-only Tour of selected College of Medicine Facilities |

* When available

