

Dear Class of 2020,

It is time to purchase the tools of your trade – your own doctor's bag. This can be a time-consuming and expensive process, so the UCF College of Medicine chapter of the American Medical Student Association (AMSA) has arranged a convenient and cost-effective option for you. We have been able to negotiate a discounted rate for a complete doctor's bag with all the required and recommended tools. This year we are offering one package with optional upgrades on the oto/ophthalmoscope and stethoscope. All the equipment has been reviewed and approved by the clinical skills faculty. The oto/ophthalmoscope, stethoscope, and sphygmomanometer are of the highest quality and represent the industry standard for diagnostic equipment. They are the level of quality the faculty wants you to have and will last you your entire career.

Receive these special 2016 AMSA PROMOTIONS with your order!
