Last week: WELCOME. DOCTORS: UCF's College of Medicine welcomed 120 new M.D. students who pledged to serve their communities and become "Good Doctors." The new students received their white coats and, in a UCF tradition, shared with Dean Deborah German the qualities they believe make a good doctor – including courageous, humble, ethical and knowledgeable. The students earned undergraduate degrees at schools such as Duke, Emory, Georgia Tech, Harvard and Johns Hopkins. Thirty graduated from UCF.

Many were drawn by our spirit of innovation and the many opportunities for collaboration at Medical City. Welcome to our UCF family, and good luck pursuing your dreams!
